

If you're thinking about buying pedigree Lowlines, there are things that you need to know...

1. The integrity of the Lowline gene pool is considered of paramount importance by the Australian Lowline Cattle Association and we will not compromise our registration standards.
2. If you purchase unregistered stock there is no guarantee that they will be able to be registered later.
3. You may not upgrade or breed up animals to purebred Lowline status.
4. When purchasing a Lowline, always check the animal's tattoo. The stud tattoo code (three letters) is in the right ear and the year letter and individual animal number in the left. All registered animals are required to have these tattoos.
5. Check the tattoo against the animal number on the registration certificate.
6. If no registration certificate is available, check the tattoo details by going to www.lowlinecountry.com and clicking the link Herd Book on the menu bar, then Animal Search on the window that opens.
7. If purchasing embryos, check their registration certificates. Otherwise, check again through the same link at www.lowlinecountry.com Search on the name of the sire and/or the dam. As well as their breeding, ownership and transfer history, you will find a full list of their progeny, including embryos. Check the number of the embryo against the number the seller has supplied.
8. To have registered animals transferred into your name, you must buy from a financial member of ALCA.
9. The vendor is responsible for doing the transfer paperwork and paying the fees to transfer the cattle into your name.
10. For a transfer to be made, you must be a financial member of ALCA.
11. To become a member of ALCA please contact the Executive Officer, David McDonald, c/- ABRI, University of New England, Armidale, NSW, Australia. Ph: 02 6772 1943 E-mail: lowline@abri.une.edu.au

Lowline Country
Our interactive website

www.lowlinecountry.com

offers many opportunities for beginners to learn about Australian Lowline cattle. As well as many pages of real life experience accessible through the front page links, our social networking section has personal pages, forums, blogs, polls and online access to all promotion groups. in all Australian states and New Zealand. Many top Lowline breeders are members of www.lowlinecountry.com including ALCA president John Rowe, ALR (American Lowline Registry) president Brian Walters, ALCA Foundation Members Des Owens, Keith and Moira Smith and Jeanette and Peter Stebbins, and all members of the 2009 ALCA Council. There are also many ordinary members ranging in age from 11 to 74 years. They are all there to meet and help and make friends with others interested in Lowline cattle.

PENETRATION...
READERSHIP...
DECISION MAKERS...

EXPOSE YOUR STUD

The Rural Press National Network of Agricultural Weekly newspapers reach a staggering 85% of Australian beef producers every single week.

Rural Press
Livestock Services

Advertising in our weekly agricultural publications benefits stud breeders with a cost-effective solution to successfully promote their stud where it matters..... the decision makers.
Target your market now.